Fashions for June.

The metropolis presents a brilliant appearance at the present time, dressed in all the gayety of the new spring and summer fashions. The windows are bright with beautiful muslins and light summer silks, and the streets are thronged with ladies abroad to see what is new, who have come to air their new clothes and pretty Easter bonnets in the sunshine of Broadway.

The prettiest costume to be seen as yet upon the streets is a rich summer silk suit, chene, or striped in narrow line in two colors. A white and lilac stripe, for instance, dress and sack, is trimmed with bands of silk in the contrasting color, and worn over a white mohair petticoat, trimmed with three rows of purple and white silk.

Another very pretty suit is composed of mouse-colored chene silk, dotted with white and trimmed round the narrow folds of mouse-colored satin, dotted with white opaque beads. This is worn over a fluted skirt.

There is a delicate chene poplin, and a very silky material, made of silk and linen, both of which are used for morning dress purposes; but though very pretty, they are not equal for service to the pure material, and stand all sorts of weather without shrinking.

The new muslins are very gay, and in very large patterns; they are softened, however, by the delicate and beautiful shading of the designs. An organdie muslin, moreover, needs a large pattern to be effective. Small figures spoiled by the fine transparent ground-work of the tissue, and serve only to give a misty, uncertain tint to the entire fabric.

Robe organdie have been revived this season; some made with a single flounce round the bottom of the skirt, others with set, upper skirt, and flowered brands, which descend upon it, and form a sort of fan-shaped tunic.

White foulards promise to be very fashionable this season for young ladies, although they certainly require great neatness and exquisite attention of detail to be attractive. The finest and nicest of skirts and bows, white shoes (unless the trimmings of the dress are black, and then black slippers may be worn), spotless gloves, and a very careful toilette are indispensable to a white dress; it is not, therefore, an economical toilet.

The new Paisley shawls have black centers and black fringe; they are considered very distinguished. A great many ladies are having their old white centers taken out and black ones put in. A great business in this way is done in the alteration of India shawls.

A novelty in summer black silk cloaks and sacques is the introduction of color into the trimming.

"Hoods are as fashionable as ever, but they are now worn without loops, and quite frequently simulated by an embroidery at the back of the cape, the edges of which are finished with fringe.

The short dresses are found great for country wear, and ladies are adopting them universally for this purpose and for traveling. Nothing so comfortable or convenient has been invented for a long time.

It is decided now that the summer bonnets will be very small, the bonnets for dress and reception purposes are really smaller than ever, and very generally of the fanchion shape. They are merely little triangles of lace, or white crape, laid in fine folds, and trimmed with a mauve or blue velvet bandeau, a little rhe blonde, a white rose-bud, and two or three small bronze leaves.

Dresses are still cut very narrow, and with long trains; four yards and a half is considered sufficiently wide round the bottom for a trained dress, and three and a half for a short dress.

Dresses not full gored are gathered at the back. We have said several times, and repeat again, that underskirts must either be gored, or made very narrow at the top, and with a deep flounce at the bottom; this is essential to the good appearance of the dress.—Demorest's Monthly.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The earnings of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, notwithstanding the antagonism attempted to be directed against it by lines and independent freight organizations in the West, who cannot bend it to their purposes, show a large and prosperous business and a handsome increase upon those of the same period last year. The results vindicate its policy of maintaining its own fast freight lines, instead of permitting outside organizations to monopolize its cars and track, at such terms, and making large profits out of both the road and the shipper. The earnings of the road for April are $511,410 15 in excess of those of April 1866, the details being as follows:

REVENUE FOR APRIL, 1867:
Main Stem	$669,044 92

—The New Nation, a radical journal of great ability, published at Richmond, Va., prints the following paragraph:

"Who can realize the fact? and yet it is a fact. What's a fact? Why, the Hon. J. M. Botts and Cornelius Harris, a man so black that his blackness glitters, are seated together on the Grand Jury, and that, too, in the city of Richmond, Virginia. Here's the text—we leave our readers and posterity to make the comment. The world moves down South, in Richmond, Va., though it stands still everywhere else. What do Copperheads in the North think of this?"

WASHINGTON, May 16, 1867.

SMUGGLING FROM CANADA.

The Treasury Department having been advised that large quantities of peas are imported from Canada, ostensibly for domestic use as dried peas, but used as seeds, the Collectors of Customs of all lake ports have been instructed to regard all whole peas as seeds, and charge on them the duty of thirty per cent., prescribed by statute, unless they have clear proof they are kiln dried and unfit for seeding purposes.

SUPREME COURT—BANKRUPTCY RULES.

The Supreme Court met to day, and after delivering various opinions adjourned until the first Monday in December.

The Court ordered as follows: That certain rules and forms of proceedings in bankruptcy, which have been framed and adopted by the Court in pursuance of the Act of Congress, approved March 2d, 1867, be and the same are hereby promulgated; that said rules and forms be recorded by the Clerk, and that they be allowed to be printed.

MISSISSIPPI INJUNCTION REFUSED.

Case No. 14, Original. State of Mississippi complaint vs. Secretary Stanton and Gens. Grant and Ord, was decided by the Court. The motion was for leave to file an amendment to the bill in this case. This was denied, by a divided court, as announced by Chief Justice Chase, but the names of the Judges on each side were not made public, this being a matter of the Court.

Upon a motion to dismiss the bill for want of jurisdiction, it was ordered that the bill be dismissed with costs. So the Mississippi injunction case falls with that of Georgia.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—We left your city on the 2:20 P. M. train of the Fort Wayne Road, on day before yesterday. All went nicely until we were some ten miles this side of Steubenville, when, suddenly, the locomotive being thrown from the track, we found ourselves in the midst of a fearfully looking smash-up. Providentially not a soul on board was injured. There we were, however, not knowing what was to be done with us. Some of the passengers said we would be returned to Steubenville; others affirmed that some means would be provided to send us on ward towards our destination. That latter party, after the lapse of some five hours a train arrived from the west. To that we were transferred, and in a very short time we were on our way. Without further accident or delay this city was reached at ten o'clock yesterday morning.

All along the entire route the promise of an abundant crop, of both fruit and grain, is certainly very cheering. The wheat fields, with scarce an exception, look splendidly. It does one's eyes good to see them. If all goes well until harvest time, flour will be down to twenty dollars per barrel. Let the poor take heart.

Cincinnati is certainly a fine city. Whether or not she still be called the "Queen of the West" is a question for others to discuss. We do know this, that, having put on her Sunday clothes, she looks as fine as anybody what queenly.

We find in this city what we think ought to be in every city, a Ministerial Association composed of Evangelical ministers without respect to denomination. It meets once a week, for religious worship and free, true discussion—friendly discussion—of subjects pertaining to morality and religion. It has taken in hand the vagrance and sabbath questions with a strong hand. To show how truly Catholic the spirit that pervades the association, we may state this single instance at its last meeting. The fact having been communicated that Rev. Mr. McCarthy, a Roman Catholic priest of Christ Church, had deceased, it resolved to attend in a body his funeral. Truly the watchmen upon Zion's walls are beginning to see eye to eye.

To day we paid a visit to Spring Grove Cemetery, which lies some five miles North-west of the city. The drive thither is exquisite. The road is nearly level and as smooth as ever wheels rolled over. It lies at the foot of what are called the "Clifton Hills," the residences of which are some most beautiful private residences. As you enter the cemetery, the view is enchanting. A little in the distance before you is an artificial lake, and the lovely undulations of slight and unequal elevations of ground, covered with a sward of the softness and richness of the best grass-plot, together with this first view, there is nothing peculiary attractive. You observe the absence of two things, accidental to most cemeteries. It is said that both are being discouraged. Many of the monuments though not costly, are massive and elegant, and not a few of them display much good taste. The whole cemetry is kept in nice order. Additions have been recently made to it, and it now contains some four hundred acres. Naturally your "Allegheny Cemetery" has the advantages of "Spring Grove." VISITOR.

A Homicide Discharged—Attempted Suicide—Fatal Accident.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—Thomas Lein, who was yesterday acquitted of the murder of George Ellers, in the Criminal Court room in Philadelphia, last December, has been found "not guilty" on an indictment for murder. Ellers was accused of seducing a daughter of Lees, and was about to be tried on the charge when he was shot, having just been brought in from prison.

—A Dublin correspondent alleges that in 1865 the Fenian Executive in New York remitted large sums of money to Ireland, in the shape of drafts, drawn by the Rothschilds on the Rothschilds. The British Government embargoed the bills and directed the Rothschilds not to pay them, which was not done. A bill drawn for two thousand pounds, to be raised for the defence of the prisoners, with others, when refused payment in London, was returned to New York, but the Fenians in Ireland allege that the brethren there have never been able to recover the gold from the Belmonts. The Fenian organization in Ireland is said to be in good working order, and unimpaired in force.

—Concerning the riot in Mobile a "special" says: The leader, David Files, who fired the first shot at the Chief of Police, Carpenter, is the only one arrested. It is said he aimed directly at Judge Kelley. He was held to bail in five thousand dollars, by Mayor Withers. It is certain that the attack on the negroes was conducted for a considerable distance from the scene of action, as many were shot five or six squares off. Shots were fired from the roof of a store directly opposite the stand, and from the windows of a house. It is also believed here that shots were fired from the side of the window of the house of the editor of the Register, which overlooked the stand. The excitement is so great that the investigation is postponed, and the Mayor and Col. Shephard will make a right inquiry into the matter. The United States troops are posted through the city, a squad occupying the front of the Battle House.

CONFIDENTIAL MESSENGER ARRESTED.

James H. S. Schureman, colored messenger of the Comptroller of Currency, was arrested, and is under examination to-day, on a charge of the larceny of $12,000 in bills of the First National Bank of Jersey City, and forging the signatures of the officers of the bank. It is believed this is but a portion of the amount of National bank notes abstracted. Schureman was confidential messenger of the Comptroller, and it was part of his duties to handle these notes and carry them to the Express Office. He is supposed to be only a tool of other parties, who filled in the forged names.

St. Louis May 16.—To the Adjutant General United States Army: We have a communication, signed by Col. Hoffman, Commanding officer at Fort Buford, as late as February 28th. All were well then. He reports that on the 1st of January the Indians appeared in considerable force before the fort, mounted, and after a variety of evolutions, charged on the garrison at sunset. The single shot from a twelve pounder they went off in a great hurry and have not since that time attempted any further hostilities, although encamped on the Yellow Stone, only a few miles from the Fort.

APPEAL TO REPUBLICANS.

The National Union Committee.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 16.

The National Union Committee to-day issued an appeal to the Republicans of the country for assistance in [illegible] this auspicious crisis of the country. It is deemed of the highest importance that Republicans in every state should immediately re-organize for the remaining elections of 1867, preparatory to the coming Presidential contest, especially in the states which have never before recognized as the only just basis of Government the equal and inalienable rights of man. They say they desire to prosecute a systematic and thorough canvass of Southern states by the most efficient speakers of both races, and to second their efforts by the distribution of documents, enforcing the principles, policy and aims of the Republican party. They therefore appeal for aid, directly and personally, to the party, asking the rich to give generously and the poor to give what they can afford. All letters and contributions to be addressed to Sen. Marcus L. Ward, Chairman and Treasurer, Newark, New Jersey.

Turkey and Turkey Buzzard.

Some of the merchants in the upper part of Liberty street have, by their contributions, provided means to pay the Hose Companies for thoroughly washing the street opposite their places of business—this arrangement extends over a square or two. The result is that that portion of the street is very clean and nice. To the stores and shops along the favored section this is "Turkey." But the washing process above has sent the dirt and debris to the section below, reeking in the waters of the impeding gutter. The thanks of the public are unstinted and unsightly. To the shops and stores fronting on this lower section, and to all passers, this is "Turkey buzzard." Surely some sanitary arrangement should be devised, whereby, at public or private expense, every part of every street would be kept thoroughly cleansed during the hot months at least.

Acknowledgment.

The members of the Pittsburgh press who attended the execution of Robert Fogler feel specially obligated to Sheriff Smith, District Attorney Crumrine, Major W. M. Steep, editor of the American Quarterly Review, Adam H. Ecker, Esq., of the Examiner, Messrs. Moore and Armstrong, of the Tribune, Esq. Dougan, Revs. Herr and Hemphill, of Smith's Church, Mr. Hawkins, the Mansion House, and others, for kindness, courtesies and attentions during their brief sojourn in the Smoky City. We are, moreover, As Pittsburgh is fairly entitled to be selected as the place for holding the next Fair, on both these accounts. Eight years have elapsed since the last State Fair was held here. Hence, we are glad to learn (as we do from good authority) that the Committee appointed by the State Board to consider and determine the question of locality coincide in this view. But, as the holding of a Fair involves an expenditure of money by the Society, and as other cities are making efforts to present inducements, it would seem that contributions from our citizens are needful to this end.

The Allegheny County Agricultural Society has enlisted warmly in the design of having the State Fair held here, and have appointed a Committee to solicit and receive Subscriptions to the amount of about four thousand dollars. The Committee consists of Messrs. John E. Parke, John F. Jennings, Jared M. Brush, J. F. Keeler and Capt. Wm. Kerr, who will, either in person or by some well known authorized agent, upon our citizens, and we bespeak a hearty co-operation in the matter.

Soldiers' Monument—Meeting of the Association Yesterday.

An important meeting of the Soldiers' Monumental Association was held in City Hall, yesterday afternoon. General James S. Negley was called to the Chair, and Miss Mattie Fowler officiated as Secretary.

After the reading of various communications, the following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted:

On motion, Generals Negley and Pearson and W. W. Ward, Esq., were added to the Committee on Invitations, and a committee instructed to arrange a programme for the opening evening of the Fair.

First. No person, booth or table appointed one of its members to be sole cashier and responsible for all moneys received at said table.

Second. Before the closing of the Fair on each night, each cashier will hand to the Secretary of State's office, a statement in written statement of the amount and the kind of money received during the day.

Third. The ticket collector will settle each night and hand over to the chief treasurer both entire receipts with statement.

Fourth. The chief treasurer will keep the assistant cashier and ticket collector supplied with all treasury change and money.

Fifth. By the above system the daily receipts of each table will be known, and the success of the Fair will be understood as it progresses.

A Homicide Discharged—Attempted Suicide—Fatal Accident.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—Thomas Lein, who was yesterday acquitted of the murder of George Ellers, in the Criminal Court room in Philadelphia, last December, has been found "not guilty" on an indictment for murder. Ellers was accused of seducing a daughter of Lees, and was about to be tried on the charge when he was shot, having just been brought in from prison.

—The New York Herald learns that England designs to seize Cuba in the event of any difficulty with Spain, and endeavor to retain the Island as a base in the Gulf of Mexico.

—A Dublin correspondent alleges that in 1865 the Fenian Executive in New York remitted large sums of money to Ireland, in the shape of drafts, drawn by the Rothschilds on the Rothschilds. The British Government embargoed the bills and directed the Rothschilds not to pay them, which was not done. A bill drawn for two thousand pounds, to be raised for the defence of the prisoners, with others, when refused payment in London, was returned to New York, but the Fenians in Ireland allege that the brethren there have never been able to recover the gold from the Belmonts. The Fenian organization in Ireland is said to be in good working order, and unimpaired in force.

—Concerning the riot in Mobile a "special" says: The leader, David Files, who fired the first shot at the Chief of Police, Carpenter, is the only one arrested. It is said he aimed directly at Judge Kelley. He was held to bail in five thousand dollars, by Mayor Withers. It is certain that the attack on the negroes was conducted for a considerable distance from the scene of action, as many were shot five or six squares off. Shots were fired from the roof of a store directly opposite the stand, and from the windows of a house. It is also believed here that shots were fired from the side of the window of the house of the editor of the Register, which overlooked the stand. The excitement is so great that the investigation is postponed, and the Mayor and Col. Shephard will make a right inquiry into the matter. The United States troops are posted through the city, a squad occupying the front of the Battle House.

—Dobson & Rainer's wholesale liquor warehouse, at Norfolk, Va., was burned yesterday morning. Insured for $21,000; loss not stated.

—Henry T. Crawford, of Cleveland, Ohio, complained to the Superintendent of Police of New York, on Wednesday, that he had lost $10,000 at faro in a gambling hell on Broadway.

FROM CINCINNATI,

Accident on the Pan Handle—Fruit and Grain Crops—Ministerial Association—Spring Grove Cemetery.

Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

CINCINNATI, May 15, 1867.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—We left your city on the 2:20 P. M. train of the Fort Wayne Road, on day before yesterday. All went nicely until we were some ten miles this side of Steubenville, when, suddenly, the locomotive being thrown from the track, we found ourselves in the midst of a fearfully looking smash-up. Providentially not a soul on board was injured. There we were, however, not knowing what was to be done with us. Some of the passengers said we would be returned to Steubenville; others affirmed that some means would be provided to send us on ward towards our destination. That latter party, after the lapse of some five hours a train arrived from the west. To that we were transferred, and in a very short time we were on our way. Without further accident or delay this city was reached at ten o'clock yesterday morning.

All along the entire route the promise of an abundant crop, of both fruit and grain, is certainly very cheering. The wheat fields, with scarce an exception, look splendidly. It does one's eyes good to see them. If all goes well until harvest time, flour will be down to twenty dollars per barrel. Let the poor take heart.

Cincinnati is certainly a fine city. Whether or not she still be called the "Queen of the West" is a question for others to discuss. We do know this, that, having put on her Sunday clothes, she looks as fine as anybody what queenly.

We find in this city what we think ought to be in every city, a Ministerial Association composed of Evangelical ministers without respect to denomination. It meets once a week, for religious worship and free, true discussion—friendly discussion—of subjects pertaining to morality and religion. It has taken in hand the vagrance and sabbath questions with a strong hand. To show how truly Catholic the spirit that pervades the association, we may state this single instance at its last meeting. The fact having been communicated that Rev. Mr. McCarthy, a Roman Catholic priest of Christ Church, had deceased, it resolved to attend in a body his funeral. Truly the watchmen upon Zion's walls are beginning to see eye to eye.

To day we paid a visit to Spring Grove Cemetery, which lies some five miles North-west of the city. The drive thither is exquisite. The road is nearly level and as smooth as ever wheels rolled over. It lies at the foot of what are called the "Clifton Hills," the residences of which are some most beautiful private residences. As you enter the cemetery, the view is enchanting. A little in the distance before you is an artificial lake, and the lovely undulations of slight and unequal elevations of ground, covered with a sward of the softness and richness of the best grass-plot, together with this first view, there is nothing peculiary attractive. You observe the absence of two things, accidental to most cemeteries. It is said that both are being discouraged. Many of the monuments though not costly, are massive and elegant, and not a few of them display much good taste. The whole cemetry is kept in nice order. Additions have been recently made to it, and it now contains some four hundred acres. Naturally your "Allegheny Cemetery" has the advantages of "Spring Grove." VISITOR.

SERIOUS FIRE.

At four o'clock this afternoon a fire broke out on the second floor of No. 46 South street, occupied by William A. Sale & Co., Commission Merchants, as a storage warehouse. The second, third and fourth floors were pretty well burned out. The loss of goods is nearly $300,000. Williams & Guion, Shipping Merchants, No. 71 Wall street, had $25,000 worth of goods on the fourth floor. These goods were badly damaged; insured. Howland & Aspinwall had eighty cases of raw silk, valued at $32,000, in the building, which are almost a total loss. Sale & Co. had on storage nine hundred chests of tea, value $35,000; fifty cases of silks, value $40,000; eighty bales of straw goods, value $10,000; seventy-five cases of straw hats, value $7,000; and $5,000 worth of miscellaneous goods, belonging to Boston firms; insured. Large and Harmonious Meeting of Whites and Blacks—Resolutions Concerning the Riot on the 11th.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MOBILE, May 16.—A large and very harmonious meeting of whites and blacks was held this evening. Speeches were made by Hon. Alex. McKinstry, Mayor, and others. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That at a meeting on the night of May 11th there were disturbances and disorders, resulting in most lamentable consequences, &c. &c.

Second, We are of the opinion that the disturbances at said meeting were wholly unpremeditated and the result of accidental excitement to which all large assemblages are subject.

Third, In our opinion our people are not disposed to impede in any manner the full exercise of speech to all and every class of persons.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Almost a Riot by Negro Stevedores—Military Ordered Out—Policemen Busily Engaged—Arrest of Ex-Governor of Galveston—Indiscriminate Shooting.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, May 16.—Considerable disturbance took place among negro stevedores on the levee to-day, amounting almost to a riot. Two policemen were badly injured while endeavoring to arrest a negro from a body of men of his own color. The military were ordered out to aid the police.

The following is a paragraph from an order of General Mower, issued to-day: "The United States government will keep the entire force in readiness through the military, and you will not be protected in wrong doing."

At a meeting of the Cabinet this morning, a negro question between the races, was interrupted by United States troops, when indiscriminate shooting commenced, the majority of the negroes appearing to be armed.

FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1867.

BOOK TABLE.

SPEECHES AND ADDRESSES delivered in the Congress of the United States and on several public occasions by HENRY WINTER DAVIS, of Maryland. New York: Harper & Brothers, 1867.

Mr. DAVIS was an uncommon man, not only in breadth of understanding, acuteness of penetration and exact and varied scholarship, but in the higher attributes of moral honesty and courage. Quick to perceive what ought to be done, and how to do it, he never hesitated in marching squarely up to his convictions. He had power over inferior men, but it was not power gained by unmanly or ungenerous compliances; but by superior wisdom and daring. He was a leader because he had the qualities which preeminently fitted him for the position. He was not a politician. He was more. He was a statesman. His art did not consist exclusively or mainly in detecting the course of public opinion, as one may tell which way the wind blows, by throwing up chaff; and then following it for his own advantage. He possessed the higher art of deciding almost instinctively which way the current of opinion ought to go on great public questions, and of contributing mightily to turn it in the right direction.

It was his fortune to be cast into a turbulent and revolutionary epoch. He was made for it. What he might have been in a period of rest and tranquility may be conjectured but not readily determined. In the tempest of Maryland politics, he was a central figure; always self-poised, ready, clear-sighted and indomitable. When that State would have gone out of the Union into the vortex of rebellion, he seized it by the throat and held it so that it did not move. Translated to the larger sphere of action in the House of Representatives at Washington, his genius asserted its supremacy, and he was promptly acknowledged a leader of the nation.

Smitten by death suddenly and in his prime, his fall cast the shadow of a great sorrow over the Northern States. This volume has a double value. It presents the orator as he painted himself in his greatest efforts, and it conveys to the student a just apprehension of the great crisis and of the conflicting principles and motives which struggled in it for the mastery.

THE BANKRUPT LAW OF 1867. With notes and a collection of American and English decisions since the Passage of the Act. By the Law of Bankruptcy. By Edwin James. New York: Harper & Brothers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

Mr. JAMES was formerly an English lawyer of experience and a Member of Parliament. Some years ago he established himself at New York. He brought to the preparation of this volume abundant knowledge and industry, and has performed his task in a manner acceptable both to lawyers and laymen. Each section of the Bankrupt Law has appended to it, somewhat as notes, a statement of the various rulings applicable to it, with references to the cases. This volume is specially opportune.

AMERICAN POMOLOGY. Apples. By Dr. John A. Warder. New York: Orange Judd & Co.

Dr. WARDER is President of the Ohio Pomological Society, and Vice President of the American Pomological Society. He has large experience in fruit growing, and has an enthusiasm for the vocation. He has made it a study for many years, and has developed his theories and methods in a volume of 750 pages, illustrated with 200 cuts. This volume relates exclusively to Apples. The History of this fruit is given; the best method of propagating it is next described; then follows all the details of dwarfing; the diseases to which the trees are liable are narrated and remedies stated; depredating insects are brought to notice; the varieties of fruit are classified; and all other particulars imparted which are either of interest or utility. Persons who are engaged in Apple culture will find this a convenient and valuable manual.

If the popularity of a writer may be measured by the number of editions through which his works pass—and there seems to be no better rule—Mr. DICKENS's success is almost unparalleled. At the present time several distinct editions of all his works are issuing from the press in this country; and the supply does not overtax the public appetite. The Globe edition is admirably illustrated and well printed, so that the accessories of engraving and typography impart additional satisfaction to the readers.

LONDON SOCIETY. An Illustrated Magazine. May, 1867. Republished by Hurd & Houghton. New York.

The contents are—1. How I set about paying my debts; 2. Goldsmith at the Temple Gate; 3. Visits in Country Houses; 4. The last Run with the Harriers; 5. Playing for High Stakes; 6. Boating Life at Oxford; 7. Watching a Window; 8. Mr. Fairweather's Yachting; 9. The Play Grounds of Europe; 10. The Tamar and the Tavar; 11. County Courts; 12. Anecdote and Gossip about Clubs; 13. Artists' Notes from Strange Pictures; 14. A Strange Courtship.

COMING WONDERS, expected between 1867 and 1873. By Rev. M. Baxter. Philadelphia: James S. Clayton. Pittsburgh: J. W. Pittock.

The object of this volume is to show a new and literal fulfillment of the Seven Seals of the Book of Revelation. LOUIS NAPOLEON is made the central figure. Any person who has a decided taste for the enigmatic, the marvellous, the fanciful, and the puerile, in the theologic line, can gratify it in the pages of Mr. BAXTER.

LITERARY LIFE OF JAMES K. PAULDING. Compiled by his son, William I. Paulding. In one volume. Pp. 397. New York: Charles Scribner and Company.

The literary life of Paulding possesses unusual interest to literary men from the fact that he was prominent in the formation period of American literature. His association with Irving, in their literary relations, as well as by marriage, and also having occupied such a distinguished position in the affairs of the country entitle him to consideration, in connection with his ability as a writer of merit. The work contains a brief outline of Paulding's early life, his struggles to reach the point of appreciation, which he finally attained. A considerable portion of the volume is devoted to an account of his works, with extracts from his important writings, and republications of fragmentary articles out of print. The correspondence with Washington Irving and others, many of whom were among the magnates of the land, form an interesting feature of the work. Paulding was thoroughly American, and his love of country is manifested in a very decided manner. Throughout the whole of his writings there is a vein of quiet humor which affords the reader much pleasure in their perusal. The editor has executed his work in a creditable manner, and used the materials to good advantage. The work is brought out in elegant style by the publishers, who are to issue four volumes of Paulding's select works, uniform with the present one, comprising "The Bulls and the Jonathans;" "Tales of the Good Woman;" "A Book of Vagaries;" and "The Dutchman's Fireside."

PERSONAL RECOLLECTIONS OF DISTINGUISHED GENERALS, by William F. G. Shanks. Pp. 352. Illustrated. New York: Harper & Brothers.

These admirable sketches are worthy to be preserved in the handsome style Harpers have brought out the work. The recent events of such thrilling interest, are brought vividly before the mind in perusing the accounts of these distinguished characters in the struggle. While the work is not faultless, yet the difficult rote of portraying the characteristics of such varied characters, is so well executed, that one is forced to award praise, which the author is justly entitled to receive. Nor is their lacking independence in expressing opinions of the merits and faults of these Generals. It is to be expected many will differ with the author in the elements of character he gives each officer. His out-spoken views are all the more commendable, and the author will be estimated more highly for his frankness. The contents of the volume are: "Sherman as a Strategist;" "Thomas as a Tactician;" "Grant as a General;" "Sheridan as a Cavalryman;" "Fighting Joe Hooker;" "Recollections of Rousseau;" "Peculiarities of Various Generals," &c.

DIARY OF MRS. KITTY TREVYLYAN. A story of the Times of Whitefield and the Wesleys. By the author of "Chronicles of the Schonberg-Cotta Family," "The Early Dawn," &c. Pp. 436. New York: M. W. Dodd.

This stout "Diary" is one of thrilling interest, each character being brought out in language strong, yet tender, graphic and full of pathos of the most touching character. The stiff conventionalities of the Established Church are vividly represented, in striking contrast to the subduing evangelical type of the followers of WHITEFIELD and the WESLEYS. No one can peruse this book without obtaining a clearer insight into the marked phases of human character. Here and there there are passages of word-painting of the most exquisite cast. It fairly sparkles with gems. As the reader threads his way through the volume he will be overtaken with the tenderest emotions. The author has obtained an enviable reputation as a writer, and Mr. DODD deserves the thanks of the public for publishing works of such decided merit.

CHRISTIE'S FAITH. By the author of "Mattie Astray," "Carry's Confession," &c. Pp. 403. New York: Harper & Brothers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner.

This work is for the people. Its language is good plain Saxon. It treats of "Triumph over Sin" in a powerful manner. Unlike works of this sort, while it treats of low life it discards low style. The conflict of good and evil is set forth in two lives in a clear and attracting form. It is well said, there is no pandering, but a lofty, pure purpose throughout the whole book. While commending it, as it so well merits, as a work of fiction, hangs on the fact that it represents the higher elements of moral power. Much of this class of writing is of a vitiated character, but this publication possesses merit for its intrinsic worth.

THRILLING ADVENTURES OF DANIEL ELLIS, the great Union Guide of East Tennessee, for a period of nearly four years during the great Southern Rebellion. Written by Himself. Illustrated. Pp. 420. New York: Harper & Brothers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner.

This work is well named, as it abounds with "thrilling adventures," and will help very materially to give persons an inside view of the atrocities committed on loyal Unionists. Ellis had received some training in the Mexican war, so that when the rebellion broke out, he was forced to abandon his family and wagon making, in East Tennessee, where he resided, to serve as Union guide. He gained great notoriety on account of his daring and success, as a Union scout. Intensely loyal, persecuted by the Confederates, he gave himself wholly to the noble work of caring and suffering for others. It is estimated thousands of Union refugees were assisted by him in crossing the lines. His services cannot be too highly estimated, and will not be overlooked either by the reader even if the style of composition is objectionable. Losing sight of its highly colored language, there can readily be traced the simple history of one who lived a life of hazard and toil for the good of others. The illustrations, as well as the book itself, are executed in Harper's proverbial good style.

PASSAGES IN THE LIFE OF THE FAIRE GOSFELLER, Mistress Anne Askey. Recounted by ye unworthie Pen of Nicholas Moldwarp, R. A., and now first set forth by the author of "Mary Powell." New York: M. W. Dodd, 506 Broadway. Pp. 257.

DODD has gotten up this dainty work in superb style, both in paper and mechanical execution. The title page clearly indicates that it is a story of ye olden time. The antiquated style of letters, in reading the book, is soon lost sight of by the charming language employed by this distinguished author. It gives an admirable view of the times embraced in the narrative, wholly unlike these modern days. There is a severe religious tone running through its pages, but presented in the quaint and singular vocabulary of that day. It is a very readable book, and calculated to elevate the reader.

THE ADVENTURES OF REUBEN DAVIDGER; seventeen years and four months a captive among the Dyaks of Borneo. By James Greenwood, author of "Wild Sports of the World," Curiosities of Savage Life, etc., etc. Highly illustrated. Pp. 346. New York: Harper & Brothers.

The author announces in the Preface that the adventures of DAVIDGER were written for the amusement of its readers. This rollicking adventurer passed through a series of mishaps in his seafaring life, which fills its pages, teeming full of humorous incidents. It contains a fund of amusement and information that will well repay the reader. His captivity among the Dyaks of Borneo is as instructive as remarkable, and presents a specimen of daring that rarely occurs. The work is also rich in illustrations.

HOMESPUN; OR, FIVE AND TWENTY YEARS AGO. By Thomas Lackland. Pp. 346. New York: Hurd and Houghton.

This elegantly gotten up work is divided into three parts. 1. Penates. 2. Vicinage. 3. Bucolics. It depicts in graphic language the inner life of a household, and is eminently suitable for the people. Taking the period it proposes to give them inside views of domestic life, it furnishes a style of living, of comfort and happiness, which to an alarming extent is disappearing these modern days. It is full of beautiful pen pictures, and it cannot fail to be popular for fireside reading in the family circle.

THE HISTORY OF PENDENNIS. His fortunes and misfortunes, his friends and his greatest enemy. By William Makepeace Thackeray. With illustrations by the author. Two volumes complete in one. Pp. 372. New York: Harper & Brothers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

This volume, we presume, is to be the initial one of a standard edition of the great novelist. Harpers are doing for Thackeray what other publishers are doing for Dickens. The volume before us is compact, and gotten up with good taste. Besides the elegant steel plate engraving of Thackeray, the book is profusely illustrated with wood cuts, in excellent taste, and well illustrates its matter. The writings of this widely known and popular author, are destined to live when the works of others contemporary with him, are forgotten. The history of Pendennis is known already to the reading public and this new edition of the Harpers will suit well for library purposes.

NED NEVINS, THE NEWS BOY; OR, STREET LIFE IN BOSTON. By Rev. Henry Morgan. Pp. 424. Boston: Lee and Shepard. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

It is not to be wondered that this little book is having such an extraordinary sale, because it depicts a species of outcast life, which prevails to such an alarming extent in our large cities, in such vivid colors, that it is attracting an immense number of readers. Mr. Morgan styles himself the "poor man's preacher," which being the case, it indicates that his field of labor lies among characters so truthfully stated in "Ned Nevins." The book itself is the story of a news boy who lived in Boston, and who had all the various vissitudes of his class, until he met with better fortune and found a comfortable home.

HISTORY OF THE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR OF THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA from February 14th, A. D. 1794: A. O. 676 to November 13th, A. D. 1866: A. O. 748. A. O. E. P. 68. By Alfred Creigh, LL. D., K. T. 33°., Historiographer, &c. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co., Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

From copious extracts from the front page the object of this book is clearly set forth, and will be readily comprehended by those connected with this time honored fraternity. Dr. CREIGH, the Historiographer, has spent years of labor in executing his difficult and delicate work, and is entitled to the gratitude of the Templars. The immense researches among documents and papers relating to the Order are demonstrated in the monument before us. The Knights Templar have a convenient compendium of all that relates to the Order, which will prove of incalculable value to the different societies. Lippincott & Co. have brought out the book in good taste.

CONSUMPTION.—This Scourge

of humanity, bane of civilization, with despotic sway has instituted fatal inroads in all climes, and conditions of life. Neither age, sex or rank are exempt from its ravages. Its dry hand falls alike upon youthful innocence and wrinkled age. Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough Expectoration, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, Darting pains in the Side and Back, Emaciation and a general neutrality condition of the whole system. It is authoritatively stated that one-fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and its nature less understood; there is no disease upon which quacks operate more fatally and fearful disease when has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies. Persons suffering from this dread disease or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in possessing themselves of Dr. Keyser's Remedy, in order that they may stay its ravages, and be restored to health.

The Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON'S PREPARED PREPARATION for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung Affections, has been in use over 30 years with the most marked success. ALL THE WORLD OVER!

There are but few spots on our globe where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not known; and, when known, a specialest.

In the United States and British Provinces it has become a household word. As a protective against malaria, epidemic fevers, Fever and Ague, and other diseases produced by miasmatic influences, it stands far ahead of all other preparations, and is so considered by the most eminent physicians of the day.

In South and Central America, Mexico and West Indies it has obtained a firm hold on the minds of the people, and is implicitly relied upon as a certain preventive and cure for the many miasmatic diseases incident to those tropical regions.

In Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand and adjacent islands, its praises are in the mouths of all. Her hants, miners, farmers, manufacturers and squatters all endorse it. Thousands already has it saved from the pernicious effects of bad water, arising from the low swampy grounds so prevalent in those countries.

In China and the East Indies it is working its way with rapid strides, and is extensively used in the hospitals.

In Conservative Europe, even, its influence is being felt, and the day is not far distant when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will become in the old world what it now is in the new—a never-failing joy to the afflicted.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is controlled and cured by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodwin, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, piles, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is much mucus or sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a healthy, healthy appetite, vigorance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

THE COURTS.

United States Circuit Court.

Before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning:

William J. Florence vs. Joseph O. Sefton and J. R. Gardner. This was an action to recover for an alleged infringement of a copyright. The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $500, the penalty prescribed by law.

James Bradley vs. R. S. Hunt and Caroline Rhine, administrators of A. S. Rhine. Verdict for plaintiff for $11,236.32.

O. H. Souther vs. city of Pittsburgh. Verdict for the plaintiff for 3,706.31.

Isaac M. Pennock vs. W. S. Woods and Wright. $1,400 for plaintiff.

O. B. Evans vs. Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad. Verdict for plaintiff for $1,332 04.

United States District Court.

Before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

Court opened yesterday at 10 o'clock.

The last case on the list, that of Robert Black, indicted for passing and having in possession, with intent to pass, counterfeit Treasury notes, was brought before the court upon an application for continuance made by his counsel, Thos. M. Marshall, Esq. The affidavit set forth that three material witnesses for the defence were absent and could not be had at the present term, and that it was necessary to have their testimony. The application was granted, and the case went over until the August term. The defendant was required to give bonds in the sum of $4,000 for his appearance, the bail having been increased from $10,000, on motion of the District Attorney.

District Court.

Before Hon. Moses Hampton.

J. Grosvenor Davis vs. John S. M'Call. Before reported. The jury found that defendant had sustained damages to the amount of two hundred dollars, subject to the opinion of the Court on questions of law reserved. This was an action on a judgment note, given in part payment for two lots of ground in East Liberty. The defence was that the plaintiff, in selling the lots, agreed to open certain streets, by which the lots would have been rendered much more valuable, but failed to do so, and by this failure, damaged the property. Several other suits, involving the same points, are pending.

Pittsburgh, Farmers' and Mechanics' Turnpike Company vs. Oakland Passenger Railway Company. Action to recover some seven hundred dollars, for work done on the turnpike, under an article of agreement with the railway company. On trial at adjournment.

Common Pleas Court.

Before Hon. Edwin H. Stowe.

P. Y. Hite vs. Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company. This case was taken up on Monday, concluded on Wednesday, and yesterday morning the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $75,00 for damages. The action was an appeal from the award of a board of viewers appointed to determine as to the damages sustained by the appropriation by the defendant railroad company of roadway on his premises in East Deer township. The viewers awarded $50,00, which plaintiff contended was inadequate damages, claiming $10,000. The jury it will be observed awarded a little more than one-third of the amount designated by the viewers. A. V. Anderson and D. W. Bell appeared for the plaintiff, and J. H. Hampton and Robert Woods for the defendants.

Defendant is engaged in the practice of medicine and surgery in Birmingham, and it was averred that he was called to attend professionally Mrs. Davis, who sustained an injury to her ankle by a fall; that he took charge of her case and undertook to cure her, having received a fee, but that he was negligent and unskilful in his treatment, thus hindering and delaying her recovery, by which she sustained great damage; that it became necessary to call in another surgeon, and the jury found for the plaintiffs the sum of $713 10.

Joseph and Nathaniel Stern, partners, vs. J. S. Saint, W. S. Evans, D. S. Gilmore, S. R. Coulson, James S. King, E. J. Saint and J. H. Porter, owners of the steamboat "Uride." This was a contr. How Murderers Escape Justice.

Foolish, as wicked, is the man who imbues his hands in the blood of a fellow being. The sacred command, "thou shalt not kill," cannot, with impunity be set at defiance; neither can its violation be hidden in the darkness of ordinary sin. The murderer's feet are shackled; his arms bound by his own conscience. After his crime, the world loses its brilliancy, and in the face of every man he beholds a foe; one who follows his footsteps to bring him to justice. Providence throws about him meshes through which it is impossible to escape. He is his own persistent accuser. He feels that God's hand has stamped the mark of Cain upon his brow and that the world is not below to recognize it. We can see how far the murderer has escaped, in this neighborhood, even in our own recollection and that of younger readers.

Hugh Corrigan had buried his wife in cold blood, in Westmoreland county, and to hide from the prying eye of the world his guilt, he burned down a fire kindled for the purpose, till naught but a handful of charred ashes told of his deed. The very flames that were thought to consume, conceived his guilt, while taunting heaven in the consummation of the murderer's plot, spoke his guilt from their torrid tongues, and led to the investigation which secured his conviction. Baffled at his condemnation, the wretch destroyed the life due justice, committing suicide in the Pittsburg jail.

David McKim murdered the afflicted young Dr. Norcross, near Altoona, Blair county, to possess himself of a few hundred dollars. Looking upon him as a friend, and appreciating his kindness as a nurse, the confiding victim had reasons to trust his murderer, and solicited his company in journeying from Dubuque, Iowa, to the home of his parents at New Haven, Connecticut, whither he was returning in the belief that his end was nigh, his sojourn in the western country failing, as was expected, to check his disease. From the car at Altoona Station, in the night time, the delicate young man was enticed to a lonely mountain glen, a place fit for such a deed, stricken to the earth with a club, his throat cut, left for dead, and the body so disposed on the railroad track that it was likely to be crushed to a shapeless mass by the first train, the murderer thus hoping to ward off suspicion as to the true cause of death. The victim revived, the wintry blast congealing the ebbing life-blood, and was discovered in the morning dawn by train hands, dragging himself through the snow. Although speechless, and insensibility soon returned, his wounds told plainly of the cruel deed. The letter written by the murderer to his friend, Michael Bonner, planning an alibi, completed the last link in a remarkable chain of circumstantial evidence, and although fiercely and profanely asseverating his innocence, the guilty wretch suffered a deserved death.

David Evans, of Allegheny, cruelly butchered his wife and set fire to her clothing, hoping that the flames would consume the mangled corpse. His anxiety to fasten the guilt upon an innocent man led to his arrest and evidence sufficient was adduced at his trial to secure his conviction, and he was executed. A written confession has never seen the light.

Christian Jacoby, an emigrant from Germany, arrived in Pittsburgh with his wife, enticed her to the solitary neighborhood of Cork's Run, murdered her whilst on her knees she plead for her life, and casting her body into the close garlish pool, fled to his native fatherland for the far West, with his secret shared only by his God and himself. Days passed, the body was discovered, and the murderer arrested. Circumstances fastened the crime upon him and he expiated the horrible deed with his life in the county jail yard at the same hallowed spot upon the same scaffold with Evans.

Henry Fife and Charlotte Jones in cold blood murdered McMasters and his sister in their lonely hut on the Monongahela river, near McKeesport, for a paltry sum of money. The appearance of Charlotte Jones on the day of the murder attracted suspicion. She was arrested, confessed, and with her companion in guilt was executed in the county jail yard. Monroe Stewart, implicated with them, and also convicted, was reprieved, but died in a hospital, choking to death from small pox.

Frecke and Marshall enticed a German emigrant, who had neither friends nor a knowledge of the country, from New York to Pittsburgh, and foully murdered him on Boyd's Hill. The murderer was capped in deep mystery till Marshall was arrested for burglary and a search warrant led to the discovery of long clothing in his house. To relieve his troubled conscience he made a full confession of his crime, and, with Frecke, was led a felon to the jail yard —the third double execution in Allegheny county, in succession.

Houser and Benner rent out the brains of two helpless females for the purpose of obtaining their carefully hoarded earnings, and for a long while escaped detection and conviction in our penitentiary had heard them plan the murder, was pardoned out, and was the instrument in the hands of Providence in bringing their arrest, conviction and execution in Cambria county.

Mrs. Grinder, the Lucretia Borgia of the nineteenth century, cunningly plied her avocation of murder upon her innocent victim, Mrs. Caruthers, till death ensued, and was not suspected till her excessive kindness to the murdered woman was questioned. The dead body was exhumed, the presence of poison discovered, and with circumstantial evidence she was convicted, and with a full confession on her lips, she expiated her terrible crime on the scaffold. Her's is last in the list of executions in our county.

Richard Thalrwell was circumstantially convicted of the murder of Houseman, to gratify his carnal passions for his victim's wife, and died an ignominious death in Fayette county in atonement.

The youthful Robert Fogler, whose ignominious death we recorded yesterday, was detected in his crime by a trifling circumstance. In his flight from the house of Dinsmore, he knocked the heel piece from his left boot, which was afterwards found, traced to the proper ownership, and made the link in a strong chain of evidence against him. Frightened, he made a full confession, and perished on the scaffold in atonement for his crime.

Thus it will be seen that the murderer seldom escapes the penalty of justice. He may be keen and cunning to plot, wise enough to successfully execute, but in his strength the murderer begets weakness to conceal guilt, and is detected.

Surety of the Peace.—Adam Hoffman appeared before Alderman Donaldson, yesterday, and made information against Martin Busha for threatening violence. He alleges that Busha made an attack upon him, striking him in the head with a revolver and afterwards threatened bodily injury to him. The accused was arrested and committed to jail, but afterwards released on giving bail for his appearance to answer the charge at Court.

Working of the Police Telegraph.—Night before last Chief Engineer Simon H. Hare was passing up Penn street and observed a man lying drunk at the corner of Penn street and Cecil alley. He sounded twenty-two, which means, send police here, from box six, and in four minutes a policeman from the Mayor's office was on the spot. This was the first working of the telegraph and shows rather speedy movements.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this remarkable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable.

The custom house frauds at New Orleans connected with those of the First National Bank there, were brought to light last week, and likewise was the market influenced by the heavy gold shipments of yesterday and to-day. The demand for customs and legitimate business is very light, and if the Government disposes of part of the gold surplus, 30@33 is most likely to be the premium before July. Large amounts of coupons have been held back in expectation of general European war, but that is passed for the present, and instead of having heavy shipments of bonds coming back, shipments are again made for the Continental market, and small bonds are in request, showing that the quality of our securities rests with the poorer classes. Five-Twenties of the new issue are not quite so firm as yesterday, and although dividend paying Railroad shares continue at present quotations, Government securities would be neglected as permanent investments. Profits on business are cut down so much now that very close calculations are made as to net interest. Business in Railroads is less animated to-day than for several weeks, and all parties are vainly waiting results from doing nothing—until there is to hold enough stride in either direction. The bull party have no money, and the bears have no leader, and are timid despite their success. Local money market quiet, but rates stiff.

—The New York bank statement for last week shows an increase of reserve (specie and legal-tenders) exceeding the legal percentage by $1,307,164. As the practical reducing agent is legal-tenders, in estimating the ability of the banks to pay their deposits and circulation without selling gold or compounding, and quoting a money pressure, the proportion of legal-tenders to deposits and circulation should be considered. These stands as follows:

Legal-tenders	$31,509,604
Deposits	62,188,691
Circulation	23,320,913
Total of liabilities in circulation and deposits	85,509,604

Reserve of 25 per cent. required, $38,434,676. Legal tenders on hand, $67,996,—$29,561,324—showing a surplus of $31,307,280.

—The approximate earnings of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad for the month of April were $675,287, against $609,806 in corresponding month last year—showing a decrease of $24,518. The earnings from the 1st of January amount to $2,325,569, against $2,392,357 in same time last year, showing an increase of $26,611.

—Business is growing dull as summer approaches. The dry goods trade is moderately active, but much less in the aggregate amount than was in this season. The demand is chiefly limited to small quantities, required to replenish assortments. Prices of most descriptions of cotton goods have a downward tendency. Woollens of desirable styles of heavy weights, suited to the autumn trade, are held with a little more firmness, at some appreciation in rates, but buyers are not disposed to take hold freely at any higher figures, and from present indications it is doubtful if any essential advance can be established for some time to come.—Phila. Ledger.

—The failure of one of the First National Bank of New Orleans was confirmed to-day. It was precipitated by the Government, which took possession of the institution upon receiving a report from an examiner who has been on duty in that city. The bank has been the chief speculated largely. It lost heavily in gold, but this was offset by its profits, which were large, in exchange and in cotton, and the losses were of course large. The fact that it was closed up by the Treasury Department is an indication that depositors may get their money. The circulation is of course good. The Government is very properly exercising a close supervision over the banks, and it is an encouraging feature that so few fail, under such circumstances. It is evident that the banks as a whole are sound. The failure of this bank had the effect to put up gold 1½ per cent. in New York to-day, but the extreme quotation was not fully sustained at the close.—Cin. Gazette.

A New Orleans telegram, under date of Tuesday, says: There is great excitement here in financial circles, caused by the closing of the United States Sub-Treasury, and the First National Bank, by order of the Controller of the Currency. Mr. Knox, of the Treasury Department, Washington City, has assumed charge of the Sub-Treasury, and has closed the bank. Heavy defalcations are already announced in both. T. P. May, formerly Sub-Treasurer and President of the bank, made an assignment this morning of his effects, to the extent of a million and quarter, to secure the Government. The bank holds a large amount of the paper of Gen. Herron, United States Marshal, but Mr. Knox hopes to secure that out of Herron's distillery and plantation property. Gen. Gordon Granger, Gen. Heron, Judge Whittaker, Miles Taylor, and Mr. May are the principal directors of the bank. William B. Whittaker is Sub-Treasurer. This excitement has caused a run on all the banks and a very stringent money market. Many have been ruined, and the city surrounded by a crowd all day. The City National Bank suspended this evening.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 16, 1867.

ARRIVALS.

The arrivals of stock at these yards during the week ending to-day at noon, were as follows: Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, 203 cars; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 29 cars; Pittsburgh, Columbus and Cincinnati, 97 cars, making a total of three hundred and twenty-seven cars, and the great proportion of these were Sheep and Hogs.

CATTLE.

The transactions in cattle were a little larger in the aggregate this week than last week, and a much larger number could have been sold if they could have been obtained. As has been the case for some time past, the offerings continue light, though there is no apparent abatement in the number of cattle going through to Eastern markets. There was a fair number of buyers in attendance this week, and the number, we have no doubt, would have been much larger but for the fact that for a couple of months past there has been so few cattle here that buyers were unable to get what they wanted, and they were either obliged to go home empty handed, or else turn in and buy Sheep or Hogs. There is quite a spiritless demand for stock cattle, and with but few offering, prices have advanced, and we now quote at 6 to 7. Prime fat cattle, suitable for retailing in the eastern markets, are also in active demand, and may be quoted at 8@9c for do, gross, and extra at 9¼ to 9½c.

SHEEP.

The arrivals of Sheep have been quite liberal, and with unfavorable advices from the east, compared with last week, prices are a shade lower. There was a pretty full attendance of buyers, and out for this fact, prices would have gone still lower; as will be seen by reference to the report of sales, clipped sheep sold at 4 to 5c for inferior; good at 5½ to 6c; prime at 6¾ to 6¾; and extra at 7 to 7¼. Wooled Sheep—but few offering, and the difference between wooled and clipped is just about one cent per point.

To-day, New York Hogs were a little firmer, in consequence of a slight improvement reported in that market.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 16, 1867.

The eastern advices being of a more favorable character had a tendency to restore confidence in Flour and Grain to-day, and holders were rather firmer in their views, and the panicky feeling which prevailed, particularly in regard to Corn, has to some extent subsided. Operations are moderately active, and there seems to be an improved demand for Provisions. In Groceries, which articles as Butter, Eggs and Cheese, there are no features worthy of special notice.

GOLD DEALERS—The advance in gold has stiffened up the grocery market somewhat, but prices are not quotably higher. Rio Coffee is quoted at 15 to 20c for fair to choice. Sugars—choice New Orleans, 14½@; Cuba, 13@13½; Crushed, 14½@15; Refinery Sugar House, 10c; hard refined, 15½@; soft do, 14½ to 15½c. Molasses, 95c to $1 for New Orleans; 90 to 95c for Porto Rico, and 75 to 75c for Cuba. Syrups range all the way from 65c to $1.10, the outside figure only for fancy brands, such as Liverings. Rice 10@10½c for Rangoon, and 11½ to 12½c for Carolina.

GRAIN—No movement in Wheat. Oats quiet and unchanged—may be quoted at 60 to 61c, on track, and 65 to 67c, in store. Corn is unsettled, and it is difficult to quote correctly. Prime Yellow would probably bring $1 to $1.05. Rye is in good demand at $1.80, and a round lot might bring $1.90. Barley is dull at $1.35 for choice Feed.

FLOUR—Is quiet but steady, with a fair local demand, but unchanged. We continue to quote at $15 to $15.50 for good to choice Spring Wheat; $16 to $17 for Winter Wheat, and $19 to $20 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $9.50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and steady but unchanged—we quote 15½c for Shoulders; 19½c to 19¾c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 15¾ to 15¾c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams, 16½ to 16¾c for Canvassed do, and 13½ to 13¾c for Bried Beef, 22@23; and Mess Pork, $25.00 to $25.50.

POTATOES—The demand continues fair, and with light arrivals and a limited supply, the market is firm and prices are well sustained. Sales in store at $1.25 per bbl. for prime Peach Blows, and $1.50 for Buckeyes.

GREE APPLES—Scarce and in demand. Sales in store at $4.50 per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—There is a little better demand but prices are unchanged—8c to 9c for Apples, 12 to 16c for Peaches—quarters and halves.

BUTTER—Continues dull but prices are not quotably lower. Good to choice Roll is selling at 18 to 22c. Grease Butter may be quoted at 8 to 10c.

EGGS—Steady with a demand fully up to the supply and fresh packed sell readily at 16 cts.

HAY—Fair to prime baled Hay is selling at $25 to $28. Inferior is unsaleable almost at any price.

OIL—Lard Oil is reported firm at 87 to 88c for No. 2, and $1.00@1.10 for No. 1.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 16, 1867.

The market was again quiet to-day, the transactions, in the aggregate, being light, while prices remain unchanged. Sales of 909, 975, and 1466, all at 76, and all for immediate delivery. The feeling is steady, and the rule ruling figure for choice gravities. The demand continues light, both for present and future delivery, and while buyers are not very numerous, sellers do not seem disposed to make concessions in order to effect sales. Telegrams from Oil City today report Crude firm at that point at 72½ which is entirely out of all reason, according to prices here, and many of our crude dealers have stopped buying for the present. Oil is worth but 72.80 per bbl. delivered here, and after paying $2.60 there per bbl and 25c per barrel freightage, the crude dealer has nothing left whatever.

REFINED—There was rather more activity manifested in the market for bonded oil to-day, though there is still plenty of room for improvement. Prices are no better, and buyers are operating cautiously, the exceedingly low figures to the contrary notwithstanding. Sales of 500 barrels standard white, for May delivery in Philadelphia, at 28½. 1000 for same delivery at same price; 1000 for July, 1000 for August, and 1000 for September, buyer's option, at 29c. RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding slowly at this point with nine feet three inches in the channel by the Allegheny marks last evening. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant until towards evening, when it clouded up and looked favorable for more rain.

The Robt. Moore is the only arrival we have to report, and there were no departures aside from the regular packets. There is no improvement to note in business at the landing, freights for all points being scarce.

We noted some time since that the Coal Hill had sunk a barge of corn which was being towed up by the Little Champion. It was the Coal City and not the Coal Hill, and the accident occurred near Stenbenville instead of at "Deadman." We cheerfully make this statement in justice to the officers of the Coal Hill, and we hope that those of our down river exchanges who copied the item will also publish the correction.

The Columbia arrived at St. Paul on Saturday last from Pittsburgh, and was to have left again on Monday. In a note, Capt. Reed says the crew are all well; weather cold and windy, and no freight.

The Belle is due here from Cincinnati today, and will leave on her return trip tomorrow at noon. She will ply as a regular packet between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, leaving here every Saturday, and Cincinnati every Tuesday. A receiving clerk will be found at Collins' wharfboat ready to receive freight for her this morning.

The Charley Bowen, we understand, has been purchased by some parties down the river, who intend to use her in towing on the Kanawha River, and between there and Cincinnati. She has been repaired somewhat, and it is said that Mr. Andrew Watson, who bought her at auction, made a very snug profit out of the operation.

The Lorena, Capt. Sam. Shuman, is filling up steadily for St. Louis, and will be the first boat out. The Glendale, we presume, will load after the Lorena.

The Julia, No. 2, Capt. Wm. Coulson, with Mr. J. H. Ghriest, in the office, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville forthwith. She is a neat and reliable boat, and has been absent for some time.

The Isla Bess arrived at Cincinnati on Tuesday, and the Belle left there the same day for Pittsburgh. The Minnie and Kate Putnam were advertised to leave there for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

The McMeotte, enroute from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, was at Evansville on Tuesday, as was also the Armenia, enroute from Pittsburgh to St. Louis. The Bellevernon was at Cairo the same day. The Camelia left Cincinnati for Tennessee river on Tuesday night.

The Cincinnati and Louisville papers are at loggerheads. The papers of the latter city are indignant at Cincinnati boats for taking Louisville freight, and also indignant at Louisville shipping freight to them. Louisville might as well think of competing with Pittsburgh in building fine steamboats as think of competing with Cincinnati in a business point of view.

In this State, says the St. Louis Democrat, suits like the following are not often found. The clerks of a chandler's shop fell in love with mail on a steamboat became intimate with the clerk of the boat, and they lived together for several years. The consequence is the birth of four children, which the mother takes care of. The clerk leaves the river and becomes a merchant, and dissolves his connection with the chambermaid, who now brings suit against him for the maintenance of the illegitimate children. The following is the decision rendered:

St. Louis, (Mo.,) May 4, 1867.—Geo. Wiley Margaret Wiley, &c. for work and labor done and materials furnished in keeping house for him, nursing, maintaining and educating his children, Geo. Wiley, Leo Wiley, Thomas Wiley, and Horace B. Wiley, from the 21st of November, 1857, to the, inclusive, four hundred and ninety weeks, at $10—$4,900.
